

Water Hygiene Engineers

Full-time, Permanent

Salary negotiable depending on experience and location

Current vacancies in North West and North East

About Irrigonics

Irrigonics are an award-winning nationwide water hygiene solutions provider looking to recruit as part of our continuous nationwide growth.

About you

Essential

- Full understanding of HSG274 & ACOP L8 guidance and regulation
- Minimum of 18 month relevant industry experience:
 - experience as a water hygiene engineer
 - carrying out regular water hygiene monitoring tasks
 - hygiene-related remedial works such as TMV servicing and CWST cleans and disinfections, full training will be provided.
- Enhanced Clean DBS
- Full Driving License (no more than 3 points)
- Reliable & flexible as occasional travelling and overnight stays (at the employers expense) will be required.
- Able to work under pressure
- Able to be professional and presentable at all times – you will be the face of the business!

Desirable

- City & Guilds Thermostat and Mixing Valves certification
- Unvented G3 Certificate

Duties & Responsibilities:

- Water sample collection
- Temperature monitoring of hot and cold domestic water systems
- Disinfection and descale of showerheads and hoses
- Water tank inspection, cleaning, and disinfection
- TMV servicing
- Checking and monitoring chemical dosing systems
- Putting accurate data into systems
- Building and maintaining a good rapport with the clients
- Have good communication skills, both written and verbal
- Be proficient in using IT packages (training will be provided on our in-house system)

- Administrative duties which will include the use of a phone/tablet to log your work tasks.

Benefits

- Company Van, fuel & expenses card
- Company pension
- Inhouse learning and development
- Positive & inclusive workplace culture
- Progression opportunities as the business grows
- Subsistence bonus/payment when travelling is required
- Free parking
- On-site parking
- Overtime available
- No weekend work
- 20 days annual leave plus Bank Holidays

If you believe you have the above skills, please apply to admin@irrigonics.co.uk, enclosing a covering letter and your CV.